

Anderson Truck Trail

Directions to the Park

To get to the Anderson Truck Trail, take Interstate 8 East to the Harbison Canyon Exit. Go straight onto Alpine Blvd. Take Alpine Blvd. to Peutz Valley Rd., which goes under the freeway. Most people will park under the freeway bridge, but there are 3-4 parking spots at the trailhead. From the freeway underpass ride your bike about 1/2 mile looking for the trail to leave the road on the left.

Best Route:

Anderson Truck Trail is an abandoned jeep trail that has turned into a great singletrack for about half of its length. The main trail is easy to follow as most traffic stays on the main trail. There are a few side trips that are possible including a poorly maintained trail running closer to the lake. Also at the top of the trail there are some other fireroads you can follow. There is no real controlling agency for the trail, although most of it falls within forest service land.
